

The Royal Report

Faith~Family~Excellence

Red Ribbon Week Flashbacks

by: Delilah Hazeltine and Melania Ruiz

As we come close to Christmas break and the New year, let's have a re-cap of some events at our school!

First topic being red ribbon week. When our rally against drugs started, throughout the whole week we were allowed to have multiple spirit days like Emergency helper day, Pajama day, twin day, and western day.

Although it was mostly dress up days, we had two fun events the Rally against drugs poster and the pumpkin races. Even though the week was short our rally played a Big fun part in our school year. As it showcases our bright upcoming futures.

Pumpkin Races were a HIT!

by: Hanna R., Kamila C., Elijah O.

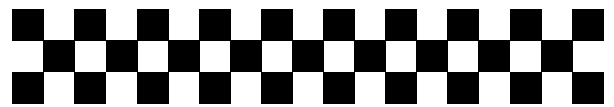

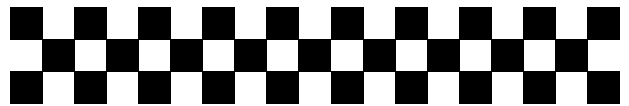

Students were able to experiment with elements of S.T.E.M. and figure out a way to make their pumpkin racers race off to the finish lines! Not only that, they also were able to use their art skills to give their pumpkins a look into the maker's life!

Some students went for movie characters, like Sadness from Inside Out, or superheroes like Spiderman! Some students even used their imaginations to create their own unique design.

Once students entered their pumpkins into the race, every single participant was able to watch their pumpkins dash down the race track. But not only were they able to watch their pumpkins race, but they were also eligible to win an award!

Pumpkin cruisers were able to earn a 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place award! There were also several other categories which included the Catholic cruiser award, the most innovative award, most creative award, and the crowd favorite: the biggest crash award!

The pumpkin races really were an incredibly fun way to show the creativity of the SJS Students!

All Saints Day lands on the first of November and is a special day that is dedicated to honoring all saints. SJS students held a parade and dressed as a saint they admire to showcase the importance of sainthood and their accomplishments in the faith.

When the Saints Go Marching!

A World of Color!

In the month of October, SJS was able to host their annual fundraiser in order to raise money for the school, and this year the theme took a turn for the colorful!

St. Joseph School's Color run was a huge success! Students were able to participate in all sort of fun activities, but none hold a candle to the main attraction which was our run!

Students were able to run their laps while being covered from all the chalk colors. It was an amazing and thrilling experience for everyone.

